

2014

JANUARY 30, 2014 - FEBRUARY 18, 2015

Chinese Year 4712- Year of the YangWOOD Horse

Horse is: inherently yang fire and the most yang of all 12 animals in the Chinese calendar;
high point of rising yang each day and each year and one year every twelve~ yang WOOD fuels moving yang, sometimes voluminously or rapidly.

Even as yang is peaking, its demise is therein contained.

With this year the light of 12 years reaches its brightest, and for the next six years, the light is in retreat.

Therefore, this year, make hay while the sun shines!

Governs-due south, summer, especially the summer solstice, 11am-1pm

Bridges-from before to after this mirrors actual horse sight, which pivots behind & ahead.

Empowers-VISION and MAKING KNOWN.

Featured colors & shapes are red triangles and green cylinders

*The moon which is the same animal as the year, in this case the HORSE, is the energetic high point of the year. Pay special attention to this moon. Pay special attention, too, to the moon which matches YOUR animal year. For example, since I was born in the year of the dog, I pay special attention to the dog moon every year.
